National Trust for Canada Bringing heritage to life
Hello, Bonjour!

On behalf of the Board of Governors of the National Trust for Canada it is our pleasure to welcome you to the 42nd annual National Trust Conference, Heritage Energized, in Calgary, a city bursting with heritage enthusiasm. We know you will benefit from taking part in Canada’s largest heritage conservation learning and networking event. Scan the nametags of delegates around you and engage with the diverse range of participants – from professionals, trades and administrators, to volunteers and students.

Calgary 2015 will build on case studies from this dynamic city and across Canada to explore how heritage energy can turn places around, empower people, and create opportunities. We’ve assembled a slate of inspiring keynote speakers that will introduce you to cutting-edge heritage from around Alberta and the globe. Indigenous cultural heritage will have a strong presence throughout the conference including the ground-breaking pre-conference event, MOH-KINS-TSIS | Calgary Indigenous Heritage Roundtable.

Enjoy, learn, and spread the word!

Moh-Kins-Tsis | Calgary Indigenous Heritage Roundtable
Location: Fort Calgary (750 – 9th Avenue SE)

A groundbreaking discussion on the protection of Calgary’s Indigenous heritage sites. Calgary has a rich Indigenous heritage with many places of sacred and cultural significance – from Nose Hill to Paskapoo Slopes. And yet these important places are rarely protected by provincial legislation or recognized by municipal bylaws and polices. MOH-KINS-TSIS | Calgary Indigenous Heritage Roundtable aims to open a dialogue and to find solutions to this gap in knowledge and protection.

Bringing together elders and knowledge keepers with practitioners in the fields of heritage, archaeology, architecture and planning, MOH-KINS-TSIS will discuss heritage sites in Calgary and how Indigenous and Non-Indigenous protocols for protection of heritage places can be aligned. The goal will be to map a way forward to a shared understanding, strong relationships and a new paradigm.

Moh-Kins-Tsis Advisory Committee
Lorna Crowshoe (Co-Chair) – Issues Strategist, Aboriginal Portfolio, City of Calgary
Makiinima, Roy Fox (Co-Chair) – Retired Chief of the Blood Tribe
Dr. Reg Crowshoe – Spiritual-Cultural Advisor, Former Chief of the Piikani Nation

Tune Up Your Fundraising: Building a Strong Circle of Supporters

Location: Calgary Public Library – Central Branch
(616 Macleod Trail SE)
Facilitator: Judy Oberlander
(Judy Oberlander and Associates Inc.,
Vancouver, B.C.)

Increase your organization’s capacity to fundraise through this interactive workshop.

Organizations dedicated to heritage conservation, community development, arts and culture programs as well as museums and historic sites continue to seek ways to finance their activities. How do we find ways to widen our circle of supporters so that we can continue to maintain programs and undertake more ambitious projects?

This workshop is designed for leaders of non-profit heritage organizations including board members, executive directors and committee chairs. As an opportunity for mid-career professional development, it will provide inspiration for Main Street Coordinators, Main Street Boards and Committee Chairs as well as for non-profit leaders of museums, arts and cultural organizations, historical societies, and local community associations.

It will also be of special interest to both staff and board members of heritage, arts + culture organizations – both large and small, as well as cultural planners, historic site managers, and community leaders responsible for raising funds to sustain the operation and growth of their organizations including museums and historic sites, arts and cultural facilities, festivals, and heritage conservation organizations. Requires additional registration fee. Space limited. Please see full course details at: nationaltrustcanada.ca

1:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Workshop – Architectural Heritage Documentation for Conservation

Location: Calgary Public Library – Central Branch
(616 Macleod Trail SE)
Facilitator: Mario Santana Quintero
(Assistant Professor, Architectural Conservation and Sustainability, Civil and Environmental Engineering, Carleton University, Ottawa, Ont.)

Recording the physical characteristics of historic structures and landscapes is a cornerstone of preventive maintenance, monitoring and conservation. The information produced by such work guides decision-making by property owners, site managers, public officials, and conservators. Rigorous documentation may also serve a broader purpose: over time, it becomes the primary means by which scholars and the public apprehends a site that has since changed radically or disappeared.

This short workshop has the main aim of acquainting participants with a wide range of recording techniques and to help decision makers decide which techniques are best suited to which sites and objectives. Led by experts in the field, the lectures will benefit from instruction in various branches of the documentation field. No additional registration fee. Space limited.

5:30 p.m. – 7:30 p.m.
National Trust for Canada Conference Meet & Greet

Location: East Village Sales and Experience Centre
(553 Riverfront Avenue SE)
Hosted by: Calgary Municipal Land Corporation

Learning Tours
(Bus and Walking)
All tours depart the Palliser Hotel Lobby promptly at times shown. No latecomers admitted. Please arrive at least 15 minutes before scheduled departure.

9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.
cSPACE (King Edward Creative Hub) & Currie Barracks: Cutting-Edge Developments (Bus)
Leaders: Reid Henry (CEO, cSPACE Projects) and Doug Cassidy (Vice President, Real Estate, Western Region, CMLC)
As a showcase for the social enterprise mission of cSPACE, the historic sandstone King Edward School site was purchased in 2012 for the development of a multi-disciplinary ‘hub’ facility. Located on a full city block in South Calgary, the vision for cSPACE King Edward will be delivered through three key platforms – the creative, learning, and community commons. Nearby Currie Barracks is a landmark military base that, since 1995, has been developed by Canada Lands Corporation (CLC) into residential development that blends historic buildings and parks commemorating Canadian Armed Forces participation in the World Wars. Come see how they have achieved a walkable, sustainable design and achieved LEED-ND certification.

Oil-Fuelled Mid-Century Modern Calgary (Walking)
Leaders: David Down (Manager of Urban Design and Heritage, City of Calgary) and Cynthia Klaassen (President, Calgary Heritage Initiative)
We’ll be walking rather than driving, but it was the 1947 discovery of major oil deposits in Alberta that fuelled both car culture and the mid-century modern office boom in Calgary. After decades of little change in downtown, builders responded to the new demand for office space with a collection of buildings that grew downtown upward while suburban Calgary began to sprawl outward. A tour of this Mid-Century evolution starts at the eclectic 1948 Barron Building – currently on The National Trust’s endangered list – and ends at the Centennial Planetarium. We’ll also visit Century Gardens, a rare Brutalist style park beloved by parkour enthusiasts. Come along for a look at mid-century Calgary, from curtain-wall to concrete.

Heritage Triangle Tour: Archives Keeping Heritage Alive (Walking)
Leaders: Carolyn Ryder (Librarian, Community Heritage & Family History, City of Calgary), Lindsay Moir (Senior Librarian, Glenbow Museum Library), Carol Stokes (Archivist, Corporate Records, Archives, City of Calgary)
The Calgary Heritage Triangle is three organizations – the Glenbow Library and Archives, the Calgary Public Library, and the City of Calgary Archives – that co-exist within a two-block radius downtown. Together they collect and preserve the city’s heritage and ensure this heritage is alive and accessible to all Calgarians. Come and join us on an exclusive behind the scenes tour of all three institutions and discover some of the gems in their collections. Find out how the Heritage Triangle is actively engaging the community in projects such as Century Homes Calgary and workshops on researching community history.

East Village Revitalization (Walking)
Leaders: Kate Thompson (Director, Development, Calgary Municipal Land Corporation (CMLC) and Terry MacKenzie (Calgary Heritage Authority)
The idea of bringing East Village back to life as an urban village was resurrected in 2005 – an idea and a discussion involving the City of Calgary, urban planners and the public. Two years later, city council created CMLC and gave them the ambitious mandate to revitalize the Rivers District and, in particular, the large brownfield neighbourhood of East Village. Fast forward to today. East Village is in the midst of an exciting transformation.

1:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Glenbow Town and Quarry Archaeology Project (Bus)
Leaders: Brian Vivian and Shari Peyerl (Archaeological Society of Alberta, Calgary Centre)
The Glenbow Town and Quarry Project was established to archaeologically investigate the remnants of the town and sandstone quarry originally founded in 1906. Since 2009 the Archaeological Society of Alberta, Calgary Centre has worked in partnership with the Glenbow Ranch Foundation to identify, map and excavate foundations and features.
associated with the original settlement and quarry operation. Archival research undertaken concurrent to the archaeological studies have assisted in attaching the faces and names of pioneering families to the many features identified on the ground. In this fashion, archaeological studies and archival research have worked together to bring the Glenbow Town and Quarry back to life, and more accurately situated the role of this settlement in establishing the province of Alberta.

1:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Historic Beltline Neighbourhood: Central Memorial Park and Lougheed House (Walking)
Leaders: Michelle Reid (Conservation Landscape Architect, City of Calgary Parks) and Kirstin Evenden (Executive Director, Lougheed House)

Founded in 1899, Central Memorial Park is Calgary’s oldest park. The Park underwent a complete rehabilitation in 2009 and saw many historical features of the century old park – with its geometric pathways and beds – restored, new café structures introduced to animate the site, and the sandstone Memorial Park Library rehabilitated. Also visit nearby Beaulieu, a grand sandstone prairie mansion built in 1891 for Senator James Alexander Lougheed. Declared a provincial historic resource in 1978, the mansion grounds are now a City park and the restored home now run by a Conservation Society which has introduced many innovative programs for this house museum.

East Village Revitalization (Walking)
Leaders: Josh Sartorelli (Development Manager, Calgary Municipal Land Corporation) and Terry MacKenzie (Calgary Heritage Authority)

A reprise of the morning East Village Revitalization tour. Please see tour description above.

2:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.
Stephen Avenue: Revival of a Pedestrian Mall (Walking)
Leaders: Darryl Cariou and Clint Robertson (Heritage Planning, City of Calgary)

Stephen Avenue is Calgary’s original Main Street in the heart of Downtown. A portion is now a National Historic District and one of North America’s most successful pedestrian streets. But – it wasn’t always this way. Join City staff Darryl Cariou and Clint Robertson to learn how the masonry buildings on Stephen Avenue have been recycled and reused to create one of North America’s most successful complete, and pedestrian focused streets. From the only wooden structure to survive the “Great Fire” of 1886, to John Lyle’s 1929 Art Deco Bank, to the buildings that gave Calgary the moniker “Sandstone City,” Stephen Avenue is an excellent case study in heritage conservation, downtown revitalization, sustainability, and prairie architectural history.

First Street & Warehouse District (Walking)
Leader: Cynthia Klaassen (President, Calgary Heritage Initiative) and Bob van Wegen (Co-Founder, Calgary Heritage Initiative)

It used to be easy to overlook the gritty, lower profile district that is literally on the other side of the tracks from Calgary’s gleaming downtown, but no more. After booms, busts and years of decline, Calgary’s historic warehouse district and 1st Street SW corridor are being transformed by new developments and adaptive reuse into an urban community with brick and sandstone roots. Calgary’s growth into a major distribution centre in the early 20th century created a boom of brick warehouses along the southern edge of the CPR mainline. Today they have been transformed into lofts, retail, restaurants, and offices. 1st Street SW became one of the first commercial strips to grow south of the tracks – featuring commercial blocks, and apartments. Together this district is becoming a dynamic blend of old and new, big and small, short and tall, sandstone and skyscrapers.

Gay Heritage in Downtown Calgary (Walking)
Leader: Kevin Allen (Research Lead, Calgary Gay History Project)

This tour will highlight significant political and social events that affected the gay community. On the way it will pass by several historical watering holes where gays and lesbians gathered.

Leading and Governing Your Organization Today and Tomorrow: A One-Day Workshop for Heritage, Museums, and Arts & Culture Organizations
Location: Calgary Public Library – Central Branch (616 Macleod Trail SE)
Facilitator: Judy Oberlander (Judy Oberlander and Associates Inc., Vancouver, B.C.)

Strengthen your organization’s capacity through this daylong interactive workshop. Leadership is key to the strength and success of non-profit organizations whether they engage in heritage conservation projects, steward historic resources, govern museums, lead historical societies, arts organizations, and cultural institutions, or govern and implement community-driven Main Street initiatives to revitalize traditional commercial areas.

This workshop will focus on the roles and responsibilities of the boards and staff who lead organizations both large and small. How will we energize and sustain these organizations in the future? This workshop will focus on understanding the evolving nature of non-profit organizations and their structures; how to recruit and retain board members as well as plan for succession; how boards, staff, and volunteers can develop strategies and set priorities, and how to secure financial resources to realize an organization’s mission.

This workshop is designed for leaders of non-profit heritage organizations including board members, executive directors and committee chairs. As an opportunity for mid-career professional development, it will provide inspiration for non-profit board members of museums, arts and cultural organizations, historical societies and local planning organizations as well as community leaders involved in community revitalization. Requires additional registration fee. Space limited. Please see full course details at: nationaltrustcanada.ca

9:00 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Main Street Training
Location: Turner Valley Room, Palliser Hotel
Leader: Jim Mountain (Director, Regeneration Projects, National Trust for Canada, Ottawa, Ont.)
Cost: Free for delegates / Non-delegates $50 per session, $100 for both

Session 1: Renewing and Sustaining Your Main Street
9:00 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.
A downtown commercial district is the most visible indicator of a community’s economic and social health. How can you unlock the potential of your main street? Join veteran community revitalization coach Jim Mountain for a tour across Canada’s main streets. Learn the fundamentals of the Main Street Regeneration Approach®. Hear local success stories of Main Street® in action and discover how your community can take hold of its revitalization plans.

Session 2: Getting it Right – Design on Main Street
1:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Nothing sparks a community’s imagination more than positive physical changes on Main Street. Quality streetscape and façade improvements and sensitive infill, attract new businesses and visitors and build community confidence. This session will give you a firm understanding of heritage design principles and strategies, helping you make the most of physical improvements on Main Street.

9:00 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Introduction to Heritage Real Estate Development
Location: Calgary Public Library – Central Branch (616 Macleod Trail SE)
Gain insights into the heritage real estate industry through this interactive workshop. The activities of the real estate industry fundamentally shape our historic built environment. And yet many outside the development industry, such as heritage planners, professionals, and advocates, do not have a clear sense of the principles and logic that drive these decisions. This course is designed to provide participants with practical insights they can use in their work and, perhaps, inspire them to undertake real estate development projects of their own.
This workshop will provide participants with a solid grasp of the financial and strategic considerations that inform heritage real estate development decisions. Participants will gain powerful insights into what it takes from a private sector perspective to conserve a heritage building, given the challenges of financing, government regulations, and the nature of older buildings, themselves.

This workshop is designed for heritage professionals, municipal planners, and members of non-profit heritage organizations including board members, executive directors, and committee chairs. As an opportunity for midcareer professional development, it will provide inspiration and insight for non-profit board members of museums, arts, and cultural organizations, historical societies and local planning organizations as well as community leaders involved in community revitalization. Requires additional registration fee. Space limited. Please see full course details at: nationaltrustcanada.ca

9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.
Workshop – Conserving Hunt House: Calgary’s Oldest Building
Location: JOW Gallery, Fort Calgary (750 – 9th Avenue SE)
Leader: Lorne Simpson (Partner, Simpson Roberts Architects, Calgary, Alta.)

This technical workshop primarily intended for consultants and professionals examines the conservation of the Hunt House located in the heart of the city at Fort Calgary. The intent was to return the house to its original configuration and interpret its association with the Hudson Bay Company fur trading operations that occurred in c. 1876. Believed to be the oldest in-situ extant structure in Calgary, the Hunt House is very significant. The workshop will review the extensive documentation, research and recording that has occurred over the past two years as the log structure was carefully dismantled, repaired, and refinished. Participants will be able to meet the conservation team, including the key personnel of the conservation contractor, and have an opportunity to see the log structure in detail on site. Preregistration required. Space limited.

10:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.
National Council Meeting
Location: Leduc Room, Palliser Hotel

Leaders of province-wide heritage organizations from across Canada meet to discuss common issues and strategies.

1:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Workshop – Brick Masonry Conservation
Location: JOW Gallery, Fort Calgary (750 – 9th Avenue SE)
Leader: Malcolm Sissons (President, I-XL Industries Ltd.)

This technical workshop primarily intended for consultants and professionals will explore conservation challenges with this common building material. It will begin with a brief historical background to the brick manufacturing industry in Alberta, and then move on to explaining the differences in manufacturing of the three main types of clay brick. This will lead into a discussion of technical characteristics, identification of historic brick types, sources for replacement, and problem analysis. The interaction of bricks and mortar will also be discussed. A hands-on component will be included, as well as an observational walking tour of the nearby Inglewood neighbourhood and its brickwork. Preregistration required. Space limited.
1:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Workshop – Management of Heritage Places: The Path Towards Sustainability
Location: Marquis Room, Palliser Hotel
Leader: Tom Perrigo (CEO, National Trust of Australia (WA), Perth, Australia)

A common key area for most heritage organizations is the problem of how to conserve, interpret and manage a historic built property portfolio with a limited resource base.

This workshop is based on a journey undertaken by the National Trust in Western Australia which has resulted in at least ten heritage places being sustainably developed but also the establishment of a management model which is now the standard for all Trust places (built and natural). The workshop will firstly focus on initiating a cultural shift, having a strategic focus and incorporating an evaluation program.

The second part of the workshop will introduce the National Trust (WA) management model which includes the combination of the business, conservation, and interpretation plans. The final component of the workshop will be focussed on assisting participants in the development of a sustainable management plan for one or more of their own heritage places. Preregistration required. Space limited.

7:30 p.m. – 9:30 p.m.
Keynote Address – Vincent L. Michael
Location: Jack Singer Concert Hall, Arts Commons

Vincent L. Michael, PhD is a prominent leader in the heritage conservation field. For the last three years he was Executive Director of the Global Heritage Fund in Palo Alto, California, which works to conserve heritage sites as economic assets for developing regions of the world. He is a Trustee of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, where he served as Vice Chair of the Preservation and Sites Committee and the Diversity Task Force. He has chaired the National Council for Preservation Education, the Geographic Society of Chicago and served on the Executive Committee of Landmarks Illinois. He also serves on the Board of the Frank Lloyd Wright Building Conservancy. Vince began his career in 1983 working toward the creation of the first heritage area in the United States. From 1996 to 2010 Vince was Director of the Master of Science in Historic Preservation program at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago, where he held the John H Bryan Chair in Historic Preservation. He has lectured and led tours throughout Europe, Asia and the Americas. He is the author of The Architecture of Barry Byrne: Taking the Prairie School to Europe and numerous journal articles, travel guides and over 440 blog posts since 2005. www.vincemichael.com

Session 2 – Plenary
Energy Investment: Heritage as a Source of Strength
Location: Crystal Ballroom

Nimble for-profit and non-profit developers are showing that heritage properties attract investors and generate economic energy. Allied REIT’s pan-Canadian business model is an inspiring example of how older buildings are a strong market niche and solid assets for long-term investment. The rebirth of Medicine Hat’s Historic Clay District, on the other hand, shows how a derelict industrial complex can leverage public investment to become a social enterprise and cultural hub that fuels local economic revitalization.

Moderator: Natalie Bull (Executive Director, National Trust, Ottawa, Ont.)
• Michael Emory (CEO, Allied Properties REIT, Toronto, Ont.)
• Barry Finkelman (Executive Director, Historic Clay District, Medicine Hat, Alta.)
Michael Emory is a Trustee and the President and CEO of Allied Properties REIT, a leading owner, manager, and developer of urban office properties that enrich experience and enhance profitability for business tenants operating in Canada’s major cities. Allied went public in February of 2003 with assets of $120 million, a market capitalization of $62 million and a local urban-office portfolio of 820,000 square feet. Twelve years later, Allied has assets of nearly $4 billion, a market capitalization of $3 billion and a national urban-office portfolio of 10.5 million square feet. Michael is a graduate of Queen's University (BA, Hons., 1977) and the Faculty of Law, University of Toronto (JD, 1982). Session 3A
Harnessing the Power of Heritage
Stream: Energy Generation – Heritage as Power Plant
Location: Crystal Ballroom
Heritage is a valuable community resource whose full potential often goes untapped. Explore a wide range of experiences and strategies that can help you see your own community’s assets in a new light: from marketing heritage properties and streetscapes as film locations to revitalizing a “keystone” property in a small prairie town.
Moderator: Fred Bradley (Chair, Alberta Historical Resources Foundation, Crowsnest Pass, Alta.)
• Rollin Stanley (General Manager, Planning Development and Assessment, City of Calgary, Calgary, Alta.) – Heritage Incentives as Catalyst for Community Revitalization
• Morris Flewwelling (Retired Mayor of Red Deer, Alta.) – Promoting and Developing First Nations Heritage Sites and Features
• Noy Lim (President Licadel Hotel Group, Ltd. Maple Creek, Sask.) & Royce Pettyjohn (Main Street Coordinator, Town of Maple Creek) – Filipino Newcomers and the Extraordinary Revival of Maple Creek’s Commercial Hotel
• Marla Touw (Locations and Logistic Coordinator, Alberta Film, Government of Alberta, Edmonton, Alta.) – Leveraging Alberta Heritage Places as Film Locations
Session 3B
Financing and Heritage Development
Stream: Energy Investment – Heritage as Business
Location: Alberta Ballroom

Controlling costs
Delve into the interplay between structural/design and the financial considerations for heritage rehabilitation projects. Roving from cultivating stakeholder buy-in at a social enterprise hub to the reinvention of heritage properties in Edmonton and Toronto, this session will examine a range of projects that have found strategies for success.

Moderator: Robert Shipley (Associate Professor, School of Planning, University of Waterloo, Ont.)

• Richard Witt (Principal, Quadrangle Architects Ltd., Toronto, Ont.) – The Reinvention of Character Buildings: Liberty Village’s 60 Atlantic Avenue
• Gene Dub (Developer and Principal, Dub Architects Ltd., Edmonton, Alta.) – A Personal History of Heritage Investing
• Will Teron (Director, Heritage and Investigation, Tacoma Engineers, Guelph, Ont.) – Heritage Buildings, Engineering, and Cost
• Reid Henry (President & CEO, cSPACE, Calgary, Alta.) – Building Places for People at the Creative Edge of Change

Session 3C
Indigenous Cultural Heritage: Validation and Protection
Stream: Energy Distribution – Heritage as Fuel for the Future
Location: Marquis Room

Calgary has a rich Indigenous heritage with many places of sacred and cultural significance, most of which are unrecognized and unprotected. The MOH-KINS-TSIS Calgary Indigenous Roundtable held on Wednesday, October 21 aimed to open a dialogue and to find solutions in this gap in knowledge and protection. What did participants learn about Calgary? How can communities integrate Indigenous and Non-Indigenous perspectives in their processes? In addition, gain insights from Ontario where the Ontario Heritage Trust has undertaken initiatives to protect sacred lands, preserve intangible heritage, and provide opportunities to share perspectives and stories.

Moderator: Eldon Yellowhorn (Professor, Department of Archaeology, Simon Fraser University, Burnaby, B.C.)

• Lorna Crowshoe (Issues Strategist, Aboriginal Portfolio, City of Calgary, Alta.) – Learning from Moh-Kins-Tsis | Calgary Indigenous Heritage Roundtable
• Gerald Oetelaar (Professor, Department of Anthropology and Archaeology, University of Calgary, Alta.) – Learning from Moh-Kins-Tsis | Calgary Indigenous Heritage Roundtable
• Beth Hanna (CEO, Ontario Heritage Trust, Toronto, Ont.) – Collaboration and Friendship: Building Respectful Relationships with Indigenous Communities

Session 3D – Workshop
Location: Leduc Room

Places of faith anchor and shape our communities. Yet many congregations are facing declining attendance and insufficient funding to maintain and operate their buildings, and these important community assets are facing an uncertain future. This session, based on a new workshop offered by Faith & the Common Good and the National Trust for Canada, will share inspiring examples and success stories from urban and rural Canada. Case studies include innovative projects where places of faith are surviving and thriving; new partnerships and uses that are generating opportunities for places of faith in transition; and development of faithlands real estate where mission and heritage value are part of the equation. An essential workshop for faith groups, community organizations and heritage advocates. Preregistration required. Space limited.

Leaders:
• National Trust for Canada
• Faith and the Common Good
• BuildGreen Solutions Inc.

Location: Leduc Room

CAHP Session

- Tse’K’Wa, The Charlie Lake Cave Site

Tse’K’Wa is a spiritual, cultural and scientific archaeological site of great significance to Indigenous peoples in the northeast region of British Columbia and of substantial importance in North American archaeology. In 2012, three Dane-Zaa Bands – West Moberly,
Prophet River, and Doig River First Nations – purchased land that contains the archaeological site, a residence, a garage, and a garden. The Tse’K’wa Heritage Society, which is administrated by the Treaty 8 Tribal Association, has plans to create a cultural centre that will serve the Treaty 8 communities. In addition to consultations with affected communities in spring/summer 2015, the Society is seeking advice and input from heritage professionals about the potential of using the site for community purposes. This session is designed as a participatory ‘share and learn session,’ with everyone invited to share information and ideas, and learn more about different perspectives on the meaning of ‘heritage.’

Preregistration required. Space limited.

Facilitators:
- Alain Fournier (Partner, FGMDA Architects, Montreal, Que.)
- Karen Aird (Cultural Heritage Advisor and Project Coordinator for the Treaty 8 Tribal Association)

Support:
- Garry Oker (Cultural Heritage Consultant/Tse’K’Wa Board Director for Doig River First Nation)
- Julie Harris (President, Contentworks Inc., Ottawa, Ont.)
- Rosanne Moss (Partner, FGMDA Architects/President, CAHP-ACECP, Montreal, Que.)

Organizer: Michael McClelland (Principal, ERA Architects, Toronto, Ont.)

Session 5C
ICOMOS Canada Session – Evolving Perspectives on Cultural Landscapes
Stream: Energy Distribution – Heritage as Fuel for the Future
Location: Marquis Room

Cultural landscapes have increasingly shaped discussions about a holistic approach to heritage conservation – one that recognizes the natural factors, cultural practices, and other values that are dynamically integrated with a place. Following a crest of recent work, such as last year’s Florence Declaration on Heritage and Landscapes as Human Values, ICOMOS Canada has organized a session that will trace the evolution of these ideas at the international scale. The session will then share case studies from across Canada that demonstrate how a cultural landscape approach can be applied within both urban and rural communities.

Organizer: Michael McClelland (Principal, ERA Architects, Toronto, Ont.)

Session 5D – Workshop
Workshop – Create Vision, Inspire Action and Energize!
Location: Leduc Room

This workshop uses examples of completed and ongoing projects to help participants generate ideas that could work in their own community. We will look at how heritage can build sustainable and attractive places, whether industrial or commercial/residential, and how unlikely partnerships can make a difference. Throughout the session there will be opportunities to stop, write, and discuss those ideas with other participants. Preregistration required. Space limited.

Moderator: Ross Keith (President, Nicor Corporation, Regina, Sask.)

• Patricia Glanville (Heritage Architect, Regina, Sask.)

6:00 p.m. – 7:30 p.m.
National Trust and CAHP National Heritage Awards Ceremony and Reception
Location: Devonian Room, Petroleum Club (319 – 5th Avenue SW)
Experience the traditions of old Calgary at the Petroleum Club – usually accessible to members only – an important oil industry “power centre” and mid-century modern icon built in 1958. Join us for the presentation of Canada’s top heritage awards, including the Prince of Wales Prize for Municipal Heritage Leadership and the Ecclesiastical Insurance Cornerstone Awards for Building Heritage. Business attire. Additional tickets are available.

Session 6 – Plenary
Values Revolution? New Audiences, Shifting Significance, and the Implications for Heritage Practice
Location: Crystal Ballroom

Changing values in heritage conservation have brought on a shift in emphasis from tangible to intangible heritage, from the conservation of materials to a focus on interpretation and experience. This shift is occasioning dramatic changes in both theory and practice. Join us in a dynamic session that explores this brave new world, from changing heritage doctrine and management approaches, to creative engagement and interpretation practices that are galvanizing new audiences.

Moderator: Natalie Bull (Executive Director, National Trust, Ottawa, Ont.)
- Joseph Watson (London Creative Director, National Trust, London, England)
- Dr. Harold Kalman (Author and Co-Founder, Commonwealth Historic Resource Management, Victoria, BC)

Joseph Watson has worked for the National Trust for close to five years, initially managing Fenton House and 2 Willow Rd. before accepting a position with The London Project, the National Trust’s urban audience engagement strategy. Since January 2015 he has overseen the urban off-property engagement work of the National Trust as London Creative Director. He sits on the Southbank Centre’s Heritage Advisory Group and is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts.

He authored the short guidebook for the ‘pop-up’ opening of the Balfron Tower (September 2014) and has a guidebook on Brutalist architecture forthcoming (September 2015). Joseph has delivered lectures and convened courses for the Victoria & Albert Museum, National Trust, Southbank Centre, and King’s College London. Before joining the Trust he held roles at the V&A and The Courtauld Institute of Art. Trained originally as a musician, he takes up a place on a part-time Master of Studies degree in the history of design at the University of Oxford in October 2015.

Harold Kalman, CM, PhD, LLD, CAHP, specializes in heritage planning and architectural history. He began his professional career teaching art and architectural history at UBC, after studies at Princeton University. In 1975 he set up practice as Canada’s first heritage consultant. After training in heritage conservation in the U.S. and U.K., Hal Kalman co-founded Commonwealth Historic Resource Management, which developed an extensive Canadian and international practice. He withdrew from consulting in 2010. He writes for popular and technical audiences, and teaches at the Universities of Hong Kong (where he is Honorary Professor) and Victoria. His books include Heritage Planning: Principles and Process, Exploring Vancouver, and A History of Canadian Architecture. Hal is a member of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada and was the founding president of the Canadian Association of Heritage Professionals. He received the BC Heritage Award in 2006 and the Gabrielle Léger Medal for Lifetime Achievement in Heritage Conservation in 2009. He was appointed to the Order of Canada in 2012. and this is reflected in the heritage conservation activities taking place. From the restoration of Calgary’s first oil-related manufacturing site, to the revitalization of East Village (“Calgary’s newest, oldest, coolest, warmest neighbourhood”), from the celebration of our western heritage at Stampede Park, to the redevelopment of historic Currie Barracks, all illustrate this energy and relate to the conference themes of investment, generation, and distribution.

Moderator: Darryl Cariou (Heritage Portfolio Program Manager, Corporate Properties and Buildings, City of Calgary, Calgary, Alta.)

- Neil Richardson (President, Heritage Property Corporation, Calgary, Alta.)
- Kate Thompson (Director, Development, Calgary Municipal Land Corporation, Calgary, Alta.) – Revitalizing the Historic East Village
- Jeanie Gartly (Senior Planner/Urban Designer, Brown & Associates Planning Group, Calgary, Alta.) & Chris Elkey (Senior Director, Real Estate, Canada Lands Company, Calgary, Alta.) – How Currie Barracks Historic Resources are Generating Energy for a New Urban Village
- Shannon Murray (Calgary Stampede Archives Assistant, Calgary, Alta.) – Calgary Stampede Foundation – Celebrating Built and Intangible Heritage

Session 7C

Border Crossings: Cultural Diversity, Sustainable Heritage, and Community Revitalization

Stream: Energy Distribution – Heritage as Fuel for the Future

Location: Marquis Room

New insights into the cultural diversity and sustainability of urban and rural communities is leading to new approaches in municipal planning and development. Explore how space is being made in Canadian cities for Indigenous urbanism, heritage walks as a means of engagement between Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples, how traditional Main Streets sustain economic diversity, and how those town centres are repositories for community anchoring stories.

Moderator: Brian R. Sinclair (Professor, Architecture & Environmental Design, EVDS, University of Calgary)

- Ryan Walker (Professor, Regional and Urban Planning, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, Sask.) – Indigenous Urbanism and Spatial Equity in Canadian Cities
- Ourania Emmanouil (PhD Candidate, School of Indigenous Knowledges and Public Policy, Charles Darwin University, Darwin, Australia) – Making Indigenous Heritage Visible: Dreaming Trails as Cross-Cultural Bridges to a Shared Sense of Place
- Catherine Nasmith (Principal, Catherine Nasmith Architect, Toronto, Ont.) – Main Streets as Old Growth Forests.
- Charles Ketchabaw (Managing Director, Tale of a Town – Canada, Toronto, Ont.) – Word on the Street: Insights on Main Streets and Rural Heritage from a Cross-Country Theatre-Media Project

Session 7D – Workshop

Alberta Culture and Tourism: Protecting and Promoting Appreciation for Alberta’s Rich Heritage

Location: Leduc Room

The Historic Resources Management Branch of Alberta Culture and Tourism is responsible for managing impacts to historic resources in the province, including archaeological sites, fossil localities, heritage buildings, and historic places of cultural significance to Indigenous communities. Speakers in the session will explore a range of topics, including: how the branch’s regulatory processes uncovered the Quarry of the Ancestors, a remarkable archaeological site that illuminates one of the most intensive ancient uses of the boreal forest yet identified in Canada; how the visual arts can be used to create compelling and dynamic evocations of Alberta’s history; and how the branch engages with Indigenous communities to record and preserve historic places of cultural significance.

Moderator: Matthew Wangler (Executive Director, Historic Resources Management Branch, Alberta Culture and Tourism, Edmonton, Alta.)

- Darryl Bereziuk (Director, Archaeological Survey of Alberta) – The Discovery and Layered History of the Quarry of the Ancestors
- Todd Kristensen (Regional Archaeologist, Archaeological Survey of Alberta) – The Heritage Art Series: Reimagining Heritage through the Visual Arts
- Laura Golebiowski (Aboriginal Consultation Advisor, Alberta Culture and Tourism) – Engaging with Indigenous Communities on Traditional Use Sites

Session 8E
Inglewood Main Street Regeneration Workshop
Location: Workshop will depart the Palliser Hotel lobby.
Leader: Jim Mountain (Director, Regeneration Projects, National Trust)
This field workshop will engage participants in a dynamic “resource team” exercise to identify key issues and opportunities essential to the sustainability of historic Inglewood’s main street. This session will take participants onto the streets of Inglewood. Please wear appropriate clothing and footwear. Preregistration required. Space limited.

1:30 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.
Session 8A
The Power of Safeguarding a Sense of Place: Bridging Tangible and Intangible
Stream: Energy Generation – Heritage as Power Plant
Location: Marquis Room
The interconnection between tangible and intangible cultural heritage is essential to community revitalization. In fact, we can’t have one without the other. Dale Jarvis will set the stage by exploring the link between tangible and intangible cultural heritage. The remaining panelists will offer potential models which illustrate the interconnections between people and place in sustainable community revitalization.
Leaders: Ingrid Cazakoff (CEO, Heritage Saskatchewan, Regina, Sask.) & Wendy Fitch (Executive Director, Museums Association of Saskatchewan, Regina, Sask.)
• Dale Jarvis (Intangible Cultural Heritage Development Officer, Heritage Foundation of N.L., St. John’s, N.L.)
• John Norman (CEO & Co-Owner, Bonavista Creative/Bonavista Living, Bonavista, N.L.)
• Ali Piwowar (M. Arch, Azrieli School of Architecture & Urbanism, Carleton University, Ottawa, Ont.)
• Glenn Sutter (Curator, Human Ecology, Royal Saskatchewan Museum, Regina, Sask.)

Session 8B
Heritage Policy in a Changing World: Intensification and Sustainability
Stream: Energy Investment – Heritage as Business
Location: Crystal Ballroom
The session will explore how the heritage and sustainability discussion is expanding from a building by building view (often exclusively energy focused) to one looking at the built environment as a whole. Are there urban models of sustainable development and intensification that are fundamentally at odds with the principles of cultural heritage conservation and sustainability? What are the pros and cons of addressing sustainability building by building versus a top down approach? This wide-ranging session will examine development pressures, recent policy responses, and will unpack the very latest thinking on heritage and sustainability.
Moderator: Sean Fraser (Director, Heritage Programs and Operations, Toronto, Ont.)
• Jane Pickering (Deputy Director of Planning, City of Vancouver) – Vancouver’s Heritage Action Plan
• David Johnston (Principal Heritage Planner, City of Edmonton, Edmonton, Alta.) – Edmonton’s Heritage Character Areas and the Infill Question
• Susan Ross (Assistant Professor, Canadian Studies, Carleton University, Ottawa, Ont.) – Heritage and Sustainability: An Update on the Evolving Discussion
• Mark Brandt (Principal, Senior Conservation Architect & Urbanist, MTBA, Ottawa, Ont.) – Building Resilience: Practical Guidelines for the Sustainability Rehabilitation of Buildings in Canada.

• Tom Perrigo (CEO, National Trust of Australia (WA), Perth, Australia) – The Road to Reconciliation: The National Trust in Western Australia and Aboriginal People.

Session 8D – Workshop
Facades, Conservation and Cultural Heritage Value – Part 2
Location: Leduc Room
This session continues the discussion at National Trust Conference 2014 about the practice of façade retention. Recognizing that it is not always possible to conserve a building in its entirety, a multi-disciplinary panel will examine a series of Calgary projects where façade retention was employed. The goal is to begin to identify best practices and concrete actions to support the conservation of what is valued by people and communities.
Beginning with a discussion of design principles and their intersection with conservation philosophy, the session will examine a broad range of factors that shape project outcomes – for example, the social and economic dimensions of a project; its contribution to street life; its relationship to its broader setting; and the specificity of the urban heritage being conserved.
Leader: Michael McClelland (Partner, ERA Architects, Toronto, Ont.)
• Darryl Cariou (Heritage Portfolio Program Manager, Corporate Properties and Buildings, City of Calgary)
• Jacqueline Hucker (Architectural Historian, Ottawa, Ont.)
• Marcus Letourneau (Adjunct Professor, Geography, Queen’s University, Kingston, Ont.)

Session 9 – Plenary
Story and Place: The Energy in the Tangible-Intangible Nexus
Location: Crystal Ballroom
This year’s closing plenary brings together three award-winning Canadian authors for a dynamic discussion of how stories energize and transform our experience of place.
Intangible cultural heritage is now a central part of heritage conservation thought and practice, but how do narratives permeate and animate a community? How do they become “heritage” and transform the material world around us? Join us as we explore the interplay between stuff and story through the “character” embedded in older homes, the removal of the sacred Manitou stone from an Eastern Alberta hilltop, and the way urban stories inscribe themselves into our lives.
Moderator: Chris Wiebe (Manager, Heritage Policy and Government Relations, National Trust)
• Caroline Adderson (Vancouver, B.C.)
• Aritha van Herk (Calgary, Alta.)
• Rudy Wiebe (Edmonton, Alta.)

Caroline Adderson is the author of four novels, two collections of short stories, as well as books for young readers. Her work has received numerous prize nominations including the International IMPAC Dublin Literary Award, two Commonwealth Writers’ Prizes, the Governor General’s Literary Award, the Rogers’ Trust Fiction Prize, and the...
Scotiabank Giller Prize longlist. Winner of three BC Book Prizes and three CBC Literary Awards, Caroline was also the recipient of the 2006 Marian Engel Award for mid-career achievement. In addition to her literary work, Adderson is the creator of the Facebook page Vancouver Vanishes, a lament for, and celebration of, the vanishing character homes in Vancouver. A book based on the page will be published in fall 2015 by Anvil Press.

Aritha van Herk is Professor of English at the University of Calgary in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, as well as a novelist, critic and writer. She is the author of five novels, Judith, The Tent Peg, No Fixed Address, Places Far From Ellesmere, and Restlessness, as well as six works of criticism and non-fiction, place-writing, geografictione and cultural commentary. Her irreverent but relevant history of Alberta, Mavericks: An Incorrigible History of Alberta, frames the permanent exhibition on Alberta history at the Glenbow Museum. Her latest works, In This Place and Prairie Gothic (with photographer George Webber) develop the idea of geographical temperament as tonal accompaniment to landscape. She teaches Creative Writing and Canadian Literature at the University of Calgary in Calgary.

Rudy Wiebe, widely published internationally and winner of numerous awards, including two Governor General’s Awards for Fiction, is the author of ten novels, five short-story collections, and ten non-fiction books. His most recent publications include an autobiography, Of This Earth: A Mennonite Boyhood in the Boreal Forest (2006), the biography Big Bear in the Extraordinary Canadians series (2008), and his Collected Short Stories, 1955 – 2010. His latest novel, Come Back, won the 2015 Robert Kroetsch City of Edmonton Book Prize. He is an Officer of the Order of Canada and lives with his wife Tena in Edmonton.

39 National Trust Conference 2015
The Society was created by an Act of the Alberta Legislature in 1907. It encourages the study of the history of Alberta and Canada, to rescue from oblivion the memories of the original inhabitants, the early missionaries, fur traders, explorers, and settlers of the north and west of Canada, to obtain and preserve narratives in print, manuscript or otherwise of their travels, adventures, labour and observations, to secure and preserve objects generally illustrative of the civil, religious, literary and natural history of the country.

The Alberta Records Publications Board, a committee of the H.S.A. Council, encourages the publication of early primary documents.
WHAT DO THESE TWO PICTURES HAVE IN COMMON?
If you said a Sphinx - you are partly right.

What is not as obvious is the use of Cintec anchors for structural support of the main chamber ceiling
in the Pyramid of Djoser in Egypt ..........

......... and a similar use of Cintec anchors to reinforce the structure supporting “Golden Boy” atop
Manitoba’s Legislative Building!
